Network for Vocation
in Undergraduate Education
cic.edu/netvue

The purpose of the Network for Vocation in Undergraduate Education (NetVUE) is to increase the capacity of independent colleges and universities to support their undergraduate students as they explore and discern their many callings in life.

The process of vocational reflection is an interdisciplinary endeavor, bringing together theological, philosophical, ethical, historical, and affective approaches, and implementing the theoretical reflections of these fields in vocation-related practices. Campuses are encouraged to support students in this work through a variety of academic departments, pre-professional programs, and campus offices (variously including career services, student success centers, advising programs, offices of religious or spiritual life, and many more). NetVUE is governed by a principle of subsidiarity: individual member institutions are encouraged to shape their work related to vocation and calling—including the vocabularies that they use to describe this work—in ways that are best suited to their own missions, teaching philosophies, student demographics, and other matters best known to those who lead and guide this work on campus.

Financial support of NetVUE comes from a combination of membership dues and generous support from Lilly Endowment Inc.

Over 800 participants from 250 institutions gathered in Atlanta for the 2024 NetVUE Conference in Atlanta, GA.

NetVUE Programs and Services

- A large national conference held every other year (next in spring 2026 in Kansas City, MO);
- Regional gatherings and multi-campus collaborations on specific topics, conducted primarily in non-conference years (2024–2025 schedule on the following page);
- Grants to member institutions to support further development of vocational exploration programming for students and professional development opportunities for staff and faculty members;
- Annual professional development seminars (one for faculty and one for staff) for which individuals at member institutions may be nominated;
- A wide variety of professional development opportunities, many of which can take place at member institutions for no additional cost;
- Print and digital resources for vocational exploration, including three decks of “conversation cards” and four books published by Oxford University Press—most recently Called Beyond Our Selves: Vocation and the Common Good;
- An online community for the exchange of resources and ideas among member institutions;
- A wide variety of virtual events and resources, including webinars, podcasts, and a blog; and
- A small NetVUE staff, based at Aquinas College in Grand Rapids, Michigan, to support the network.

The Network for Vocation in Undergraduate Education (NetVUE) currently has 314 member colleges and universities (as of September 2024).
